

My Sacred Archetypes

Need more strength? More courage? More grace? More compassion? More patience? More awareness? More resilience? More tenderness? More impeccability? More understanding? More determination? More creativity? More kindness? More forgiveness? More boldness? More wisdom? Who is the archetype you can call on to help you awaken the top three characteristics, core traits, skill sets, or strengths that will best move you through the challenge you wrote down when you were breaking through the clouds? Your archetypes are flowing, so let's make your list of the top 10 traits you'd like to awaken and the archetype who embodies them. Write them down on the My Sacred Archetypes list below, and read the list a few times throughout the day.

This is the birthing part of the passion process that we have been cultivating all along. Feel free to delete archetypes that are no longer needed or who have worn out their usefulness and to add new ones as new challenges, circumstances, and situations reveal themselves. Keep your list in a place where you refer to it often and within a few days, you'll have them all at your fingertips. And whenever you need to reawaken your Sacred Power of Passion, call on your archetypes and watch your dreams and desires effortlessly translate into your reality.
